STUDENT TESTIMONIALS

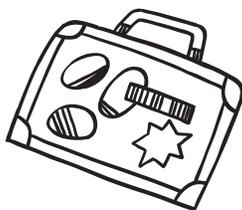

Deciding to leave my family and friends to go live with strangers who speak a different language bolstered my confidence in being more independent and adventurous, which is important as I go to college next year.

I learned not just the language, but also about the culture and way of life in France. I learned to present myself well, be independent, and try new things, and I am so grateful for that.

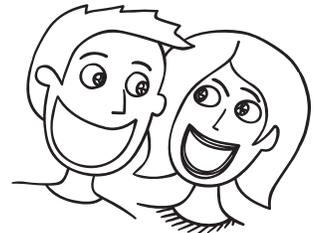

Going to Australia and seeing towns and cities that aren't as broadcasted gave me a new appreciation for places that don't easily compare to where I live. I loved looking out from my host family's backyard and seeing miles of open land and kangaroos hopping about. You learn to love another way of life while making friends for life.

Even if we don't speak each other's language, we are very much alike. Teenage boys like video games and food and we are all expected to go to college.

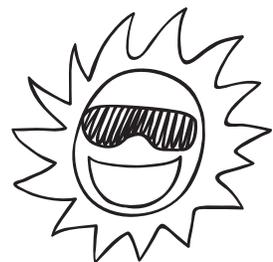

My trip to France taught me how important it is to build relationships with people who are different from me. It taught me that communication with people from the other side of the world is valuable and that there is more than one way to communicate.

THROUGH THE SISTER CITIES PROGRAM I GAINED A GREATER UNDERSTANDING OF A DIFFERENT CULTURE AND WAY OF LIFE OF THE INCREDIBLY WELCOMING AND GRACIOUS ARGENTINIANS.

BY GOING TO GERMANY AS A FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENT I WAS ABLE TO NOT ONLY GRASP THE EVERYDAY HOUSEHOLD LIFE, BUT ALSO TYPICAL EDUCATIONAL ENVIRONMENTS AND SOCIAL ENVIRONMENTS. IT WAS A LOOK AT ANOTHER COUNTRY AND ITS PEOPLE BEYOND A TEXTBOOK PAGE.

EXCHANGE CITIES

BELFAST, NORTHERN IRELAND

Belfast is the capital of Northern Ireland. The region's connection with Tennessee dates from the Scots-Irish settlement of the Nashville area in the eighteenth century to the diverse relationships and cultural ties that link Belfast and Nashville today. Belfast has been an official sister city of Nashville since 1995. Our partnership focuses on social projects, education, and musical and cultural exchange.

In addition to making new friendships, student ambassadors will attend Methody College (a high school) for one day and have great adventures exploring the biggest city in Northern Ireland! Belfast is one of the filming sights for Game of Thrones and is also home to the Titanic Museum.

- Exchanges typically take place during June
- Cost is estimated around $1,000

CAEN, FRANCE

Caen, the capital of Normandy, is located a few miles inland from the D-Day beaches. It was one of William the Conqueror's capitals and is near the historic departure point for his invasion of England. Caen was Nashville's first active sister city with the relationship originating nearly thirty years ago. It became an official sister city in 1991. Programs have included annual delegation visits, academic exchanges, programs for students and lawyers, and even basketball games between local teams.

Students who visit Caen and Paris will typically attend the D-Day ceremony and experience the awe of the American Cemetery and Omaha Beach. The exchange will be full of history, great food, and a lot of time to practice speaking French!

- Exchanges typically take place the first two weeks of June
- Cost is estimated around $1,500 - $2,000
- Exchange trip includes two nights in Paris, France

Students are required to have two years of French language instruction*

MAGDEBURG, GERMANY

Magdeburg is located along the Elbe River in northern Germany about 90 miles west of Berlin. The importance of the city extends from the middle ages through the Reformation to the present. Just to the east of the former inner-German border, Magdeburg is now the capital of Saxony-Anhalt. It has maintained a very active partnership with Nashville for several years and became its official sister city in 2003.

Student ambassadors to Magdeburg spend their two weeks enjoying the Magdeburg Cathedral, Elbauenpark Tower, Magdeburg zoo, visiting schools, and meeting local officials. Magdeburg and Berlin are home to some major attractions including the Magdeburg Symphony, Magdeburg Science Museum, the Green Citadel, the Holocaust Memorial and the Reichstag building. While there is no language requirement, this exchange is a great opportunity for students studying German.

- Exchanges typically take place the first two weeks of June
- Cost is estimated around $1,500 - $2,000
- Exchange trip includes two nights in Berlin, Germany

MENDOZA, ARGENTINA

Located in the eastern foothills of the Andes Mountains, Mendoza was settled in 1561 by Pedro del Castillo. Two of the region's main industries are wine making and olive oil production. Mendoza has been designated as one of the eight great wine capitals of the world. With its proximity to the mountains, Mendoza is a frequent destination for visitors wishing to engage in mountaineering, hiking, rafting and horseback riding activities. Mendoza became an official sister city of Nashville in March 2009.

Students visiting Mendoza will enjoy a mountain excursion with caving and ziplining opportunities. They will explore the unique terrain of the Altos Limpios sand dunes and, of course, sample all of the amazing food. Best of all, they will never forget the kindness they are shown and the friendships they make!

- Exchanges typically take place the first two weeks of June
- Cost is estimated around $2,000
- Exchange trip includes a weekend mountain excursion

Students are required to have two years of Spanish language instruction*

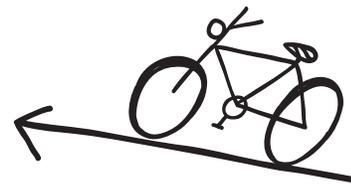

TAIYUAN, CHINA

Taiyuan, China became an official sister city to Nashville in April 2007. It is the capital city of Shanxi Province. Shanxi and Taiyuan have been important to China since ancient times, due to their strategic location and mineral resources. Shanxi lies near the Yellow River, where China's civilization began, and Taiyuan served as China's northern and western outpost. Shanxi continues to be a major producer of coal in China, and has developed a focus on heavy industries such as iron and steel. Taiyuan has a dozen universities, some of which specialize in educating engineers. Although considered a small city by Chinese standards, Taiyuan has a population of 4.2 million. The partnership between Nashville and Taiyuan builds on a longstanding regional partnership established between Tennessee and Shanxi Province in the 1980s.

Student ambassadors in Taiyuan are met with such enthusiasm! Exchange students in Taiyuan enjoy tours of historic sites such as Ancient Pingyao City and Jinci Temple. They also visit the Shanxi Museum and attend art and music classes at Yuying High School. In Beijing, they see sites including the Great Wall and Forbidden City.

- Exchanges typically take place for two weeks in mid-June
- Cost is estimated around $2,500 - $3,000
- Exchange trip includes three nights in Beijing, China

TAMWORTH, AUSTRALIA

Like Nashville, Tamworth is a regional center and a hub for industry, commerce, education and tourism. Located in the state of New South Wales, Tamworth is 260 miles northwest of Sydney and 360 miles southwest of Brisbane, the two respective capitals of New South Wales and Queensland. Tamworth became Nashville's 7th sister city in June 2013.

Kangaroos, marsupials, Bondi Beach, and the Sydney Tower are just a few of the amazing attractions in Tamworth and Sydney. Tamworth has a lot to share in music and art and the Tamworth host families are always ready to show their guests a great time!

- Exchanges typically take place the last two weeks of June
- Cost is estimated around $2,500 - $3,000
- Exchange trip includes four nights in Sydney, Australia

HOST FAMILY OPPORTUNITIES

Not sure if you're ready to travel but want to be a part of an international experience? Being a host family to an international student is a life-changing experience!

Host families take in a student from one of our sister cities such as Caen, Magdeburg, Taiyuan, Belfast or Mendoza for up to two weeks. Students stay in your home, eat dinner with your family, and participate in family activities.

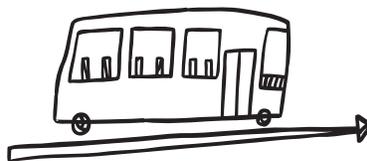

More than anything, they become a part of your family; they become your child and your children's sibling. Many of our host families keep in contact with their past students and visit back and forth for years to come.

What is involved in being a host family?

- Host families commit to providing their student a comfortable place to sleep. The sleeping arrangements do not need to be a private room, but it is best if the student can feel comfortable using the space for some privacy.
- Students spend their evenings and weekends with their host family, and families commit to including them in family meals and activities. It is not expected that families will completely rearrange their lives when their student is with them. What they want more than anything is to simply be a part of your regular lifestyle!
- During the week, Sister Cities will take students sightseeing and to meetings with city leaders. Host families commit to making arrangements to get their student to the pre-arranged drop-off in the morning and pick-up locations in the afternoon.
- Most importantly, host families commit to being open to a new relationship, new adventures, sharing their culture and traditions, and learning about new ones!

How do I sign up to host?

Visit scnashville.org, click on International Exchanges then fill out the online host family application!

JUST SO YOU KNOW...

How are students selected?

Applications are reviewed in first-come, first-served order. If a student's application is complete and includes a personal statement, a recommendation from a teacher and a $300 application fee, then they will be accepted as Student Ambassadors on a first come, first-served order. Their application must reflect that they are in good standing in their school.

What is different about Sister Cities Exchanges versus other international travel opportunities I might be offered through my school?

Sister Cities Exchanges focus on the experience of living like a local and being a part of your host family. Tour days typically run 8:30am-3:30pm and are on week days only. Evenings and weekends are time that students spend doing the things that other teens do in that country and truly getting to know their exchange city and their host family.

What is the hosting experience like? Is it weird to stay in someone else's house?

While there is certainly an initial adjustment period as the student and host family are getting to know each other, many students report that the host family experience is the most meaningful part of their exchange program. Living with a host family offers the best possible opportunity to get to know the culture and lifestyle of your exchange city and it builds a deeper connection than could ever be established while staying in a hotel.

Is there a payment plan?

Sister Cities requires a $300 application fee to be paid with submission of the application. This is fully refundable only in the event that the student is not accepted onto an exchange. The fee is nonrefundable if a student accepted into the program withdraws after the application deadline. We ask for a $500 payment by the end of January and a $1,000 payment by the end of February. The balance is due at the end of March. Once we determine and book flights, we'll be able to share the amount of final balance due (if any). If applications are not submitted until early March, we will require a check for $1,800 be submitted with the application (This total covers the $300 application fee, $500 January payment, and $1,000 February payment).

Is there any financial assistance offered?

Every year, Sister Cities of Nashville allocates funds for financial assistance for students in need. All students in need of financial assistance must complete a financial aid application that includes remarks from your school counselor regarding financial need.

What comes after the exchange?

Sister Cities loves to keep our exchange students involved! Many students go on to serve on our Youth Advisory Board or participate in international exchange opportunities in college. Some past student ambassadors have gone on to study international relations as well! Our hope is to help build cultural bridges by gaining experience with other cultures and lifestyles, and we are eager to support our students' future endeavors in any way we can!
